

Sharon Unger, MD, FRCP

Neonatologist at Mount Sinai Hospital in Toronto

Assistant Professor of Paediatrics at the University of Toronto

Dr. Unger is a neonatologist at Mount Sinai Hospital in Toronto. Her area of expertise is in neonatal nutrition. She is the medical director for a human donor milk bank proposal for Ontario. She is also a primary investigator for a CIHR funded trial entitled DoMINO: Donor Milk for Improved Neurodevelopmental Outcomes. She sits on the CPS nutrition committee and has authored their position statement on the use of human donor milk.