

Donating Wigs and Turbans

The LRCP Wig and Turban Service is made possible through the generous donations of wigs and turbans by individuals, community, business and groups. If you have a new or used wig or turban you would like to donate, please contact Volunteer Services at the LRCP 519.685.8603. We do not accept donations of real hair.

The volunteer lounge can provide a list of additional retail locations in London and area for wigs and head coverings.

To ensure an adequate supply of wigs and turbans on hand, each person is limited to 1 wig and 3 turbans.

Many people receiving chemotherapy or radiation treatments experience temporary hair loss. The London Regional Cancer Program (LRCP) provides a large assortment of wigs and turbans in a range of styles and colours to lend to cancer patients free of charge.

LRCP volunteers can help select the style and colour of wig or turban that best suits your needs and share information on how to properly care for your wig.

To access this service visit the LRCP Volunteer Room (Room A1-901) between the stairs and the elevator on Level 1 of the LRCP, and speak with a volunteer. The volunteers are available Monday to Thursday 9:00 am to 3:00 pm, and Friday's 9:00 a.m. until 12:00 noon.

Free wigs, turbans and head scarves for chemotherapy patients.
