Guidelines:

Therapy dog and handler do not enter precaution rooms, or a room that houses a patient with a current violent encounter on record. These patients are not offered a therapy dog visit and therefore are not given consent to sign.

Consent MUST be signed if a patient wishes to have a therapy dog visit.

If a patient does not want a therapy dog visit, they still must either consent or not consent to the dog being in the room (when semi-private or ward).

Please file consents in patient charts once signed.
